How To Keep “em Off the Walls

2 training hours (doesn't take 2 hours)

This is not “just another training” that leaves you hanging. It's all about setting your class up for success and creating a community within your class. My favorite part is learning about self-regulation and how to make it fun. The kids don't even know we are teaching them to control their bodies! Amy and I have even taken some research from this training when looking at the curriculum for 2021.

I purchased the training and already took it so you won't receive a certificate but we can make one if you need hours. It's worth 2 hours but it did not take me that long.

Some Tips:

-You can take this on the ipad! Some slides go fast so you have to press pause to read them.

-Have your notes ready! She gives so many tools and games to use in the room!

-We would like the 2021 prek teachers and assistants to take the training before we go over the 2021 lesson plans. So take next week to watch about 20 minutes per day during nap. I know some of your classes are low on Mondays and Fridays so you can even try and get some done then. Remember what slides you leave off on.

-Rae (the trainer) does talk during the slides so maybe bring your headphones and have 1 ear bud out and one in 😊

-If you're having a hard time doing it during nap, please message either one of us so we can see what's possible.

Thanks!

Anne and Amy
